

CLOSING REFLECTION, PART VII

My Living Legacy

Legacy does not begin someday.

It is already happening.

It lives in the way we treat people.

The attention we give.

The stories we preserve.

The traditions we keep alive.

The willingness to remain curious.

The courage to keep growing.

And the ordinary good we continue to offer.

There is no need to know exactly what will last.

Our task is simply to keep living in ways worth carrying forward.

A FEW PIECES OF MY STORY

Some parts of a person's life are easier to understand when we can see the connections.

A name beside another name.

A face in a photograph.

A few words written by hand.

These final pages are not meant to document everything.
They are simply a place to preserve a few pieces of your story that words alone may not fully capture.

A name. A photograph. A few words written by hand.

Tap to add a photo, or tape one here

MY FAMILY CONNECTIONS

Families take many forms.

Families take many forms.

Some connections come through birth.

Others through adoption, marriage, partnership, foster care, friendship, caregiving, or years of showing up for one another.

Use these pages in whatever way best represents the people who belong to your story.

You do not need to complete every space.

You do not need to know every date.

The purpose is not to build a perfect family record.

It is to help someone understand the relationships behind the names they encounter throughout this book.

MY FAMILY CONNECTIONS

The People Who Came Before Me

1 THE PEOPLE WHO CAME BEFORE ME

Their name

How we are connected

What I want remembered about this person...

.....

.....

.....

.....

2 THE PEOPLE WHO CAME BEFORE ME

Their name

How we are connected

What I want remembered about this person...

.....

.....

.....

.....

MY FAMILY CONNECTIONS

The People Who Came Before Me

3 THE PEOPLE WHO CAME BEFORE ME

Their name

How we are connected

What I want remembered about this person...

.....

.....

.....

.....

4 THE PEOPLE WHO CAME BEFORE ME

Their name

How we are connected

What I want remembered about this person...

.....

.....

.....

.....

GAVREL LEGACY BOOK

This worksheet is from the Gavrel Legacy Book.

Get the full book free at GavrelGuidance.com

Honor Your Past. Protect Your Present. Prepare Your Future.